Spring.

BY THEO. H. HILL.

The air is balm, for earth is all abloom—
The genial skies benignly bent above me,
As yet unsullied by a tinge of gloom,
Seem, as in earlier—better days, to love me.

The rugged hills wear emerald carcanets;
The woodland-wilds are starred with bright oases,
Where daisies blow, and virgin violets,
Within the leaves, half-hide their conscious faces.

The vagrant breeze, now winnowing my hair,
Sways, to and fro, the tender meadow-grasses—
Green in the shade, but growing golden where
The sunbean brightens when the zephyr passes.

Nature, to-day, would woo to her embrace
The scanty mite of good that lingers in me;
And, by the witching beauty of her face,
From wonted gloom to grateful sunshine win me.

I gaze and gladden, though oppressed by fear
Lest cares, now banished, should too soon surround me—
Put out the light my heart would garner here
And weld again the chains wherewith they bound me.

My plaintive harp, whose chords of sombre tone
Awake responsive to the touch of sadness,—
Attuned to dirge-like threnody alone,
And mute, alas! to madrigals of gladness,

In vain essays, in soft, idyllic strains
To sing, of laughing Spring, a rythmic story,
To tell how she has visited our plains
And clad them in a garniture of glory:—

How every spot of earth, her fairy feet
Have kissed, with lissome step, is greenly glowing,
Or how her smiles have thawed the wintry sleet
And set the ice-bound fountains freely flowing.

I hear the brooks, that babble as they go,—
Prattling to flowers that blossom on their borders—
Tell how she quelled her immemorial foe—
Wiled from her realm his insolent marauders:

But I may not translate, with tuneless tongue,
The vernal music all around me ringing,
For birds sing now, as birds in Eden sung—
Enough for me, to listen to the singing!

DAILY SENTINEL.

"I WOULD RATHER BE RIGHT THAN BE PRESIDENT."—Henry Clay.

VOL. I. RALEIGH, TUESDAY EVENING, JULY 10, 1866. NO. 283.

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE,

LOCATED IN AND ADJOINING THE TOWN OF WARRENTON, N. C.

FOR SALE.

The Warrenton Female College is now offered for sale, on reasonable terms. This College has been in successful operation, for over twelve years, and, during that time, it has earned a reputation as an Institution of learning, second to none in N. C.
The location is such as to warrant a full attendance of pupils, being very accessible from any point, especially the Eastern portions of N. C. and Va.
The Committee, who have been empowered to make sale of this property, deem it unnecessary to say more of this Institution as its character for a high grade of scholarship, and the elevated standard of morals inculcated, under the eye and supervision of its late President, E. E. Parham, is already well known.
The society in which this College is located is known to be equal to any in the South.
There is now a sufficiency of Buildings and other Conveniences attached to this Real Estate, to conduct a large and flourishing school. The premises contain about SIXTY ACRES of Land a material portion of which is within the Corporation. This, with all or a part of the furniture, &c., belonging to the same, can be purchased with the land and buildings. This property will be offered privately for sale until Wednesday the 3rd day October next, and, if not then sold, will be on that day sold, at public auction, to the highest bidder.
The Committee are fully authorized to sell, and would say that a rare chance is offered to any party wishing to purchase such property, as time sufficient, if required, will be given. Possession given immediately.
Any person or party wishing to examine the property will be shown it by, E. E Parham, the present occupant, or by any one or more of the Committee.

" two months,	2 00

Weekly, per year,	3 00

Our terms are invariably in advance. Money may be sent us by the Rail Road conductors or the Express Companies.

The Amended Constitution.

A brief review of the more important amendments of the Constitution may aid the people in determining their action. We have alluded to the arranging and systematising of the old Constitution, as an important feature. The instrument is now comparatively plain and easy to be understood.

The first noticeable amendment occurs in the Bill of Rights, in the clause which secures a jury trial to offenders. This formerly applied to all offences, great and small. Now, it is provided, that the Legislature may institute Courts, without juries, to hear and adjudge small or petty misdemeanors, subject to appeal in all cases. This provision seemed to be required by the enormous expense accruing to Counties and incorporated towns, by the delays of the old system, which often, in minor offences, that might be at once determined by the Magistracy, under its operation required the party to be bailed or imprisoned, and finally tried by a jury, at the public expense. The amendment, under judicious management, it is believed, will prove salutary. That great principle of liberty, the right of trial by jury, is left unharmed.

The clause in the Bill of Rights, abolishing slavery, is made conformable to the previous action of the Convention and Legislature, and to the Constitution of the United States.

In the Legislative department two changes have been made. The first, in the basis of representation, was perhaps one of the most important adopted. Representation in the House of Commons is, in the amended Constitution, based upon the number of white people in the State, and not, as heretofore, upon the whites and three-fifths of the colored people, or, as it has been called, the Federal basis. The justice and utility of this change have been seriously questioned. The blacks having always predominated in the East, gave that section the preponderance in the Legislature. This has always been a matter of complaint on the part of the West, whose white population exceeded the colored. While the blacks were recognised both as property and partly as persons, the propriety of allowing them representation was more readily admitted, but since they are no longer held as property, the advocates of the white basis could see no longer the necessity of giving representation to the blacks in a "white man's government." There are, however, cogent reasons for believing that the action is premature, especially as a matter of policy in the present state of our national affairs. Moreover, inasmuch as the interests of the blacks are to have an important share in the future legislation of the country, it would seem they ought to be included in the basis of representation, just as white women and children are. Politically and essentially, they are a part of our people, though occupying the relation of minors to the State,—hence needing protection and legislation, though deemed incapable, as white children and females are, of the exercise of the full functions of citizenship. Reckoning them in the basis of representation does not necessarily, nor constructively, include the necessity of giving them suffrage. Place them upon the same footing of white children, as minors, (and no sensible man can place them in knowledge higher,) the customs of mankind have never accorded to them suffrage, until it can be shown they have attained their majority. But the demands of the West could no longer be delayed, and we are inclined to think it was proper to yield to the demand, especially as the claims of true conservatism were regarded in fixing the property basis of representation for the Senate.

We are, however, at a loss to account for the progress of pure or simple democratic views, even among our conservative people, which would ignore altogether the claims of property as a chief basis of representation. We are sticklers for the rights of the people, but we can never recognize those rights in matters of government, when they must, certainly, inure to the damage of society. If human society were perfect, or even approached to perfection, and if men were impeccable, the interests of property and the protection of society might very well be committed without hazard to the control of any and all persons; but as men are still degenerate, and liable to the influence of evil, human legislation cannot well throw around them too many guards, provided they do not infringe the necessary and inalienable rights of men. To say that the interests of society are as safe in the hands of good men, who are not property holders, as in the hands of men owning property, is simply begging the question.—Good men will do right, if they know it, but by what provision of the Constitution, or by what custom or law, are only good and wise men allowed to be representatives? This point might be largely elaborated.

Secondly, the Legislature is restrained, hereafter, from making appropriations of public money or from assuming pecuniary responsibility, except after the question has been submitted and adopted three times successively, and on a call for the yeas and nays on each vote. This we regard as a most safe and salutary guard over the public Treasury. Wise and necessary expenditure or responsibility may by this means be defeated for a time, but the sober second thought will correct any evil which may arise from it. Further comment is deferred to another day.

Mr. Conigland's Speech.

We give place, to-day, to the striking and interesting speech of Edward Conigland, Esq., the able delegate from Halifax, delivered in the Convention, on the motion of Mr. Moore, of Wake, to restrict the office of Governor to native-born citizens or to naturalized citizens of twenty years standing. This motion Mr. Conigland supported. We think, however, that neither the history of the past, nor the indications of the present, furnished any just or necessary grounds for any change whatever on this point, in the old Constitution. The Constitution, as it is, makes all naturalized citizens eligible to all offices in the State, and we can see no good reason for the change in the amended Constitution. It is a morbid sensitiveness, which would exclude naturalized citizens from the higher offices of State. If they should be barred at all, it should be in the lower or more ordinary offices, which are more liable to be filled by unworthy or improper persons. Men, foreign or native, when brought forward for the higher offices of State among us, will be sure to be the right men. Certain it is, that the people would never think of ignoring Edward Conigland, or many other good and true men among us, who happen to have been born in a foreign land.

North Carolina Politics.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Ex-Governor Vance is here for the purpose of securing ways and means for an active canvass in North Carolina in behalf of Governor Worth, candidate for re-election.

The election will be held next August. Both Johnson Clubs here have been called up to contribute.

The loyal Union men of North Carolina will hold a convention in Raleigh about the first of August to nominate a candidate for Governor. Thomas Settle, of Wentworth, it is supposed will be the nominee.

We find the preceding items going the rounds of the Northern press. Of course there is not even the semblance of truth in the statement relative to Gov. Vance. That gentleman is in Washington purely and exclusively on private business. Were he pardoned, however, there is no doubt but that he would actively support the re-election of Gov. Worth.

Is the latter clause true? Do the "so-called" contemplate a Convention "about the first of August?" If so, it has been kept very secret here at home, and has only leaked out since Gov. Holden went to Washington. And is "Thomas Settle, of Wentworth," really the man who is to be "set up to be knocked down?" When the Captain is regularly put forward, we propose to print a large number of copies of that remarkable speech of his in the late Convention, for gratuitous distribution.

The Cotton Tax.

It has already been stated that the Committee of Conference on the Tax bill (which bill is now, we believe, in the hands of the President) had compromised on three cents per pound as the tax on cotton. The inquiry has been raised whether this tax will be in addition to the Internal Revenue tax of two cents per pound now required by law. As the two acts are entirely distinct, we fear that cotton will have to pay five cents per pound. We should be pleased to see an authentic opinion upon this important subject.

The blindness and stupidity of the Radical politicians are only equalled by their venom.—Their efforts to punish the South, and prevent its material recuperation, by an onslaught upon its great staples,—Cotton and Tobacco,—will, in reality, injure the North as vitally. But "having eyes they see not, and having ears they hear not, neither do they understand."

TENNESSEE.—From present indications there is good reason to hope that the Radical amendment will fail of ratification in Tennessee. Even should a quorum of the Legislature be had, it is said that Brownlow will not be able to bring his heretofore subservient tools in that body "to the sticking point."

THE Petersburg Index concludes an able article in endorsement of the proposed National Convention in the following excellent spirit:

"Again and again we conjure the people to let no idolatry of, and no antipathy to, old party names and old party obligations stand in the way of this appeal for peace, unity and the Constitution. The man who casts vote and voice against radicalism now is our friend, though he voted for the Wilmot Proviso, opposed the Fugitive Slave Law, considered John Tyler a traitor, or doubted the political wisdom of Mr. Calhoun. If the battle for law and magnanimity and equal rights can best be fought, demonstrably or even probably, under a banner inscribed "National Union Party," that is our banner. If the disabilities under which our people groan, can best be removed, and justice, equal and impartial, best be obtained by a party which shall ignore the name of "Democracy," then let the word "Democracy" be swept from the records of American history. If any party-drag locks the conservative wheel in its path to a nation's political salvation, let it perish utterly forever."

JAS. W. DUNCAN, late of the Confederate army and in charge of the Andersonville prison, recently tried by a military commission at Savannah, Georgia, has been sentenced to be confined at hard labor for fifteen years at Fort Pulaski, Georgia, for murder in violation of the laws of war.

The Washington Chronicle states that the Radicals in the South are preparing to call a counter-meeting to the proposed National Union Convention, to be held at an early day, and which "will be one of the most imposing events of the campaign." Doubtless.

Mr. Beecher, in "Pulpit Pungencies," thinks that "he is the best man who has the most boy in him." But the worst men have most of "the old boy" in them, Henry.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Our beloved Ex-P. G. seems to be engineering very successfully with the Senate. He is quite prepared to do every thing asked, and more too. Thad. Stevens only wanted him to eat one bushel of dirt and he agrees to eat twain, and that every white man in North Carolina should do the same, or starve. He loves the Union so dearly that he will break it into flinders. He cherishes the Constitution with such intense affection, that, like the blundering Irishman, he will consent "to give up not only a part, but, if necessary, even the whole of our Constitution, to preserve the remainder!" A precious patriot, and a pure, is our Ex-P. G.

There has been much studying of Geographies and Gazetteers of late in this City of Oaks. The Minister to San Salvador, whose nomination seems however to hang fire in the Senate, before he went to Washington City to attend to that business and to learn the "ne (knee) plus ultra" of fawning and cringing required by the Radicals before he could be confirmed, was very busy in co-hoot with his man Friday, and three very learned and accomplished schule marms, in finding out which of the San Salvadors he was sent to. They have ascertained, after much hard study, and by aid of several inquiries dispatched to Washington, to the care of Dr. Powell, that the San Salvador is not on the coast of Brazil, nor in the West Indies, nor in Spain, but somewhere in Central America. The authorities say that it is 165 miles long, and 69 broad, (North Carolina is 450 by 180.) Area of S. Salvador 11,392 square miles, (N. C. 45,000.) S. S. contains 250,000 inhabitants of all kinds and colors, (N. C. about 1,000,000.) The rural population consists mostly of Indians, who live in villages which stud the country in great numbers; in the morning going to, and returning at night from, their little patches of ground in the vicinity.

Balsam Coast is an important part of San Salvador, the citizens of which, for some unexplained reason, are said to have a great dislike to the "intrusion of white men." The army has 1,000 regulars, besides some militia-men.—The revenue was 89,360 pounds in the year 1855. The Provisory (Provisional?) seat of Government is called Co-jutepec, and is pronounced Co-hoot-ipec. Here the new Minister will take up his abode, in memory of his wonderful skill in co-hooting and conoodling successfully with two such antagonistic powers as the Union President and the Radical Senate.

The population is mostly composed of half civilized Indians, and the descendants of the Teotecs and Aztecs, who are supposed to have retreated to those regions when crowded out of Mexico by the Indians, their conquerors, who, in their turn, were conquered and pillaged by that great Spanish bummer, Hernando Cortez.

There are many volcanoes, and sometimes their fiery eruptions have been truly terrific; but they have agreed to spit only a little blue fire during his ministrations, in token of their high approbation of his great and consistent loyalty. There have been also some terrible earthquakes, but they can make no showing against one who has been Governor of the still greater kingdom of North Carolina, and has proved himself so skilful and potent at taming and keeping in subjection all unruly and disloyal spirits. So that, if there should be any earthquakes during his sojourn, they will be very gentle—only just enough to shake the Minister's knees a little, and induce him to hunt up some good and encouraging French brandy, such as he once found at a distinguished friend's, when he was in great perturbation of mind. Earthquakes are indeed so manageable in that happy country that they are only a sort of National amusement, got up to delight distinguished strangers, and to instruct them in Natural History. Our friends, and the friends of our beloved Ex-P. G., may set their hearts at rest. He shall never be hurt—only shaken a little, to show how the $7,500 in gold jingles in his pockets. There is music in almost every thing.

San Salvador boasts of its monkies,—some of superior size and finish; but the principal population is of Indian and Aztec origin, as stated above.

The San Salvadorians are great upon dye stuffs. They delight in Indigo—and it has been suggested that our Ex. P. G. desired this mission intensely as soon as he and his man and the school marms learned this fact. The reason is not very patent. The country also abounds with Cochineal and Logwood. The far seeing Ex. P. G. perhaps wished to delight his future fellow-citizens of African 'scent, when every man becomes as good as another—and better too!—with abundance of red and scarlet, in which this class of his fellow-citizens and (to be) constituents so much luxuriate.

It is not certain, from the Geographies consulted by the Governor and his council, whether or not there is any native lime in that country—to be used in white-washing. But our ingenious friend, the Minister, need not be troubled on this score. If any men or class of men need white-washing before he can sleep with them, or otherwise use them, he can follow his own illustrious example, and declare five hundred simultaneously white-washed by a stroke of the pen!

There is somewhere in Central America a big inter-oceanic canal connecting the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Also a Railroad, doing ditto.—There are supposed to be some Directors in those two institutions, who may not belong to the straitest-sect. The new Minister will be at home again here. He will snuff out disloyal directors in something less than a twinkling, and send them howling and sprawling into their volcanoes before they can say Jack Robinson; while the Minister shouts at the top of his voice:

"None but the straits—none but the straits, None but the straits deserve the fair,"

or can engineer a Railroad or pole a boat. M.

THE PHILADELPHIA CONVENTION AND THE RADICALS.—Radical leaders here betray more anxiety in regard to the Philadelphia Convention than they dare admit. It is said they will endeavor to defeat the objects of the convention by manipulating southern wires through such instruments as Hamilton of Texas, Brownlow of Tennessee, Holden of North Carolina, and others, to secure a southern delegation to the convention of the most violent and ultra southern rights fire-eating malcontents, in order that, if possible, a row can be created. They argue that the reception of such delegates will destroy the influence of the convention in the north, while their rejection will be equally damaging to the new party in the South. The game will certainly be attempted, but will be met by counter-action on the part of the conservatives to secure moderate representatives from all the southern States; failing in which, they will boldly close the doors.—New York Herald.

VIRGINIA.—The love which Virginia's sons, wherever they have wandered, bear to the dear old mother, is wonderful. A Virginian now in California writes,—"Tell your young men to let Mexico alone. Better live on a nubbin hill in Virginia, than riot in abundance any where else." The late Bishop Cobbs, of Alabama, once said with tears in his eyes: "When I die I want to be buried where the first thing I shall see on the morning of the resurrection will be the Peaks of Otter."—Richmond Enquirer.

The mercury rose to 120 in Atlantia, Georgia, last week. Sunstroke and mad dogs were prevalent.

REMARKS OF

MR. CONIGLAND, OF HALIFAX,

In Convention, June 12th., 1866, on the clause in the revised Constitution specifying the qualifications of Governor:

MR. PRESIDENT:—Under the present Constitution of North Carolina, naturalized citizens are eligible to all State offices. On the second reading of the revised Constitution, it was proposed to confine the office of Governor to native citizens of the United States, and this proposal seemed to meet the approval of the Convention. The delegate from Wake, Mr. Moore, now offers an amendment extending the eligibility to that office to citizens of twenty years standing, which would not operate as a total exclusion of citizens of foreign birth. It is upon this amendment that I beg to be indulged for a short time in addressing the Convention.

Some members may be disposed to think that I ought not to enter upon the discussion of this subject, and I was, at first, somewhat inclined to the same view. But a little reflection convinces me that I was wrong, inasmuch as I stand here solely in my representative character; indeed, so long as I have the honor of a seat on this floor, my individual may be said to be merged in my representative being. The voice of my constituents ought not to be silenced, because of any delicacy that may be supposed to attach to me in giving utterance to it.

I can have no personal interest in the decision of this question, and, practically, it is not of much importance. During the whole period of our independence as a commonwealth, we have had, it occurs to me, but one Governor of foreign birth, and he is found among the very first on the list. It may be asked then, where is now the necessity of the total exclusion of the naturalized citizens from this position. There is nothing to excite our fears from political combinations of this class of citizens; the whole number of inhabitants of foreign birth in North Carolina does not exceed 3,298.

Were we even to allow the Constitution to remain unchanged in this particular, a citizen of this class might not be elected Governor of the State for the same space in the future as such has failed to be elected in the past, so that in fact, the question is theoretical rather than practical. Certainly the proposed amendment is not intended to facilitate the progress of such a citizen to the position—an amendment which I support, and which would have satisfied the requirements of the most excited party times.

I will not, Mr. President, discuss this question in all its bearings. I have no purpose to revive old issues. I am no radical on this, or any other subject. My views on immigrants and immigration, are as conservative as those of any gentleman on this floor. I desire, it is true, to see the stream of immigration flow in this direction, because every day's observation convinces me that the labor of the freedman is not reliable and will continually become less reliable than it now is. I am compelled, too, to regard the freed population as a most dangerous element in our midst, infinitely more so than when the same population existed among us as slaves. If we can manage, by the labor of this population, to bridge over the chasm from slavery, until we can supply its place by the white labor of the immigrant, it is all that I ask and more than I hope for. I desire immigration then as a means to an end—upon it we must depend for the development of our resources—without it our progress in material improvement must be slow indeed. Let immigration come, I care not to what extent, but let it always be wielded and controlled by the resident Southern population, so that the immigrant may be educated to our wishes, and may, at no time, entertain views inconsistent with our social or political notions. I would extend to the immigrant the blessings of good government and the privileges of citizenship, after a safe period of probation, but let him come here as a tributary, as a means of supplying our wants, of developing our resources. Rather than that he should come as a predominant or independent interest, I would consent we should remain for a thousand years as we are. I desire that the South shall rule the South—I believe the Southern people are tenacious of life, and as in Europe the Celtic race has preserved its existence and characteristics through centuries of oppression intended to extirpate it, so I am satisfied, will the Southern people, even under the most adverse circumstances, continue to rule the Southern States, and give tone and character to the inhabitants thereof, no matter how numerous may be the accessions from other countries and sections.

I find no fault, sir, with pride of birth; on the contrary, I acknowledge it as a just pride. I know well enough how to appreciate the blessings which I, myself, enjoy, to feel a glow of satisfaction in the pride which my own children take in their birthright as North Carolinians, and while, on one side, they can look back to a long line of ancestry born on her soil, let me not be deemed egotistical in saying, it shall be my effort so to live that, when they stop at myself, on the other, they may find one who did not prove himself altogether unworthy of his citizenship with the noble and generous people among whom his fate had been cast.—I admit that citizenship to the foreign born is not a right which they can claim: it is a boon, a privilege, and a privilege for which I, at least, am thankful. It is with the body having power to grant it to extend or limit its exercise as in their judgment may seem best; it becomes a right only when once conferred, and, when once conferred, can be forfeited but for crime. So the question now is what is right, what is expedient, what is wise? Is it wise to exclude the foreign born from this office under all possible circumstances? Let me suppose an infant, born in Europe, brought to our shores not more than one month old, a case by no means impossible. Here he sucks in the milk from his mother's breast, here he lives, here he grows up to manhood; this is his home, he has no other, this is his country, he knows no other; every woody dell, every babbling brook, every flowing river, becomes dear to him as the haunts of his boyhood; here he acquires his education, here he devotes himself to his pursuits and engages in the battle of life, his interests are identified with those of the State, and, possibly, he may possess the transcendent abilities of a Ruffin or a Gaston. Is it right, proper or wise, that such a man shall be excluded from any office within your gift? But it may be said that such a case will seldom, if ever, occur. To this I reply that it must, to a great extent, occur whenever a citizen of foreign birth becomes likely to be elected to the office of Governor. And this is the hardship of the exclusion; it can never operate except in cases when the people would wish that it did not exist.

I know, Mr. President, that this exclusion exists in some other States, but perhaps it will be found on examination, that those States have no qualification save birth alone. I would guard well, sir, the approaches to office, whether by the native or adopted citizen, and perhaps gentlemen on this floor who may desire to retain the word "native" in this connection would rather give up that word, than abandon the other qualifications prescribed for the office of Governor. The proposed amendment renders impossible the election of a naturalized citizen to that office, before forty one years of age, and, to be eligible at that age, he must have arrived here before sixteen, and have then become naturalized immediately on attaining twenty-one, for naturalization requires, in all cases, a previous continued residence in the country of five years. It is a strange inconsistency, that while a foreigner cannot be a member of the British Parliament, he may be king of England. Of the twelve sovereigns on the English throne since the accession of Elizabeth, five were foreigners: James the first, Charles the first, William the third, and George the first, and second. The two last could not speak English so as to be understood by the cabinet, when they came to the throne. In our own day provision was made by the Parliament for Prince Albert to act, in a certain event, as Regent, who, I presume, never set his foot on British soil until affianced to Queen Victoria. I have always regarded the exclusion of foreigners from the British Parliament as having its origin in the hatred of the English people to the disgusting horde of Dutch parasites, brought over by William of Orange, whom he loaded with every favor, and thrust into every office.

I have said, Sir, that citizenship, when once conferred, becomes a right which can be forfeited only for crime, and, as the incident follows the principal, the attributes of citizenship should be as sacredly regarded as the citizenship itself. Under our present Constitution the adopted citizen is vested with certain political rights—under it he is eligible to every office within the gift of the people,—under it he had no reason to measure his aspirations, or to chain down an honest ambition; but it is now proposed to divest him, to a certain extent, of the political rights which followed citizenship, and, without any fault of his, to pronounce him disqualified, when before he was equal in the eyes of the law to all others. Vain, indeed, may have been such hopes, if ever entertained, but the hopes and aspirations which buoy up the mind and stimulate to exertion form a great part of the joys of existence, even though exclusively confined to a man's own bosom. Few, not even the best of us, would wish to expose them to the world, and when we have encouraged their existence, it is cruel, indeed, to crush them out forever. I appeal, then, to you, Mr. President, I appeal to this Assembly, I ask you, and I ask them, is it just to deprive the adopted citizen of the State of those rights which once vested in him under the Constitution?—To-day he is eligible to the office of Governor, to-morrow it is declared that he cannot, and will not, be allowed to hold the position. To-day his bosom may glow with hope,—with an honest ambition dear to every man's heart,—to-morrow those hopes set in darkness, and his ambition becomes but a dream of the past.—Are the members of this Convention prepared, sir, to carry out this purpose? I think not. I think a little reflection will satisfy them that total exclusion should not be adopted, or, if adopted, that it should be confined in its operation to those who may hereafter become adopted citizens of the State, and should not be allowed to assume a retro-active character.

But, sir, let the action of the Convention be what it will, there is but one course for me to pursue, to labor in the future, as in the past, for the interests and the honor of North Carolina. I am not forgetful of the land of my birth; I trust that I can feel for her sorrows and sympathize with the misfortunes of her sons; but, in the wide world, there is but one spot and one country that evoke my deepest love—the spot where my children were born, and the State which holds in her bosom all that is mortal of those who were dear to my heart. I leave to others their views of duty—my highest allegiance belongs to North Carolina.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—See various announcements by Pulliam, Jones & Co.

The eighth session of Lenoir Female High School will commence on the last week in August.

The Public Treasurer advertises for sealed proposals for the purchase of $50,000, bonds of the State, issued for the Western N. C. R. R. Co.

HOW THEY LIVE IN TARBORO'.—"Our market (says the Southerner) is full of all sorts of good things at very low figures. Bacon hog round 15 cents, Lard 16 to 18, Lamb 10c, Pig 10c, Eggs 12½ to 15, Butter 35, Spring Chickens 15 to 20, Grown Chickens 25 to 30, Meal $1 per bushel. Vegetables of every variety, Corn, Tomatoes, Okra, Onions, Corn-field peas new, Beets, Cabbages, Cucumbers, &c., &c., no sale. Every one will give any one as many as they want."

THE VESTRY of the Episcopal church of Newbern having, very properly, refused the use of their bells to assist in the celebration, on the ground that it was against a canon to use the church for secular purposes, were posted by the Committee on the Fourth? The Commercial is justly severe upon those of the Committee who perpetrated or sanctioned this outrage.

GOV. GRAHAM'S ADDRESS.—We are authorized by K. P. Battle, Esq., Chairman of the Committee, to say that the Memorial Address of the Hon. William A. Graham, on the life and character of the Hon. George E. Badger, will be delivered in the Commons Hall, in this City, on Thursday, the 19th. day of July prox., at 11 o'clock, A. M.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK of Charlotte has declared a dividend of 5 per cent from its earnings for the last 6 months, and carried a large amount to the surplus fund.

THE PEOPLE MOVING.—Calls for public meetings, for the purpose of securing representation in the Philadelphia Convention, have been issued in Mecklenburg, Rowan, Iredell and Anson.—When shall we have one in Wake?

TREATMENT OF A LOYAL INDIANIAN IN NORTH CAROLINA.—A citizen of Indiana who went to Raleigh, N. C., about a year ago, to engage in mercantile business, arrived here a few days ago. The citizens of Raleigh held a meeting not long since, at which they resolved to devote a day to bedowering Rebel graves, and that all stores must close up and all merchants contribute for the purpose. The Hoosier, when applied to, said he would give his full share of money and time provided Federal graves were decked as well as Rebel ones. He was immediately put on the black list, and notified that he would not be patronized any more. In addition to this, the Raleigh folks vetoed all the bills they owed him, and gave him notice that they had no money for Abolitionists.—Correspondence N. Y. Tribune.

The foregoing is a fair specimen of the truthfulness of itinerant correspondents of the Northern press. It is simply a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end. Our citizens will recognize in this injured "Hoosier" an individual by the name of Maxon, who did business, for some time, on Fayetteville street. After having traded successfully in this community until his abolition and radical proclivities were discovered, he hopes now to thrive at home as a "persecuted" patriot. Maxon is not the first persecuted Union man that has left North Carolina for Indiana,—according to the Radical organ in this city.

SUPERIOR COURT CLERK.—Judge Buxton (who will ride this Circuit next Fall) has appointed Col. E. A. Osborne Clerk of the Superior Court of this county, in place of M. D. Johnston, deceased.—Charlotte Democrat.

Confederate Dead.

The following note explains itself:

Editor Petersburg Index:

SIR—There lie buried in my grove, in the rear of my residence, the remains of two Confederate soldiers who nobly fell in our lost cause. They were killed while storming the enemy's works at Sycamore Church, during Gen. Hampton's cattle raid. Their names are,

Lieut. John P. Kendale, of Anson co., N. C., Co. A, 4th N. C. Cavalry, and Private Ellison C. Dorler, Union co., N. C., Co. A, 4th N. C. Cavalry.

I make the request, Mr. Editor, that you publish this notice, in order that the friends and relatives of the deceased may know where their bodies lie, and to give them the assurance that they are cared for.

B. W. BELCHES.

My address is Hawkinsville, Sussex co., Va.

GENERAL GRANT NOT A CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.—It may be stated positively that General Grant will accept a nomination for the Presidency for the next term from no party or faction whatever. His nomination would be equivalent to an election, and his election would necessarily lead to his retirement from public life at the end of his term of office. He considers himself yet too young to withdraw into retirement; and while he unquestionably has aspirations for Presidential honors with which to crown his illustrious career, he feels confident that he can enjoy such honors eight or twelve more years hence as readily as now. These ideas have recently been expressed by him to his most intimate personal friends, and are unquestionably the ideas that will control him notwithstanding the powerful influence now being used to win his consent to accept a nomination. So says the New York Herald.

The London correspondent of the New York World is authority for the somewhat doubtful report that General Beauregard, who is in London on railroad business, has offered his services to Victor Emmanuel, and that Mr. George N. Sanders was already on his way to join Garibaldi.

Boy with ragged trowsers and rimless chip hat runs into Dr. Fuller's drug store with a dipper in his hand. "Doctor, mother sent me to the shoticary pop quicker'n blazes, cos bub's sick with the picken chox, and she wants a thimbleful of polly gollic in this din tipper, cos we hadn't bot a gottle, and the kint pup's got the bine witters in't—Got any?"

The Tennessee Legislature and the Constitutional Amendment—The West against the Radical Tariff.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—We are without intelligence from Nashville in regard to the expected meeting of the State Assembly on the 4th instant. But we have late advices which have convinced the Senators and Representatives elect from Tennessee that the Legislature will not ratify the Constitutional amendment. The last account is that of the members of the lower House, there are sixty-four entitled to take their seats. Sixty-one would form a quorum. Therefore, if only four of the whole number refuse to approve, there will be no quorum. But it happens that sixteen of the members are opposed to the quintuple article. Of course, to render their opposition effective, they must prevent the House from forming a quorum. How it is with the Senate we have not yet heard.

The failure of Tennessee to ratify the Radical edict will confuse their entire programme.—Even if the article should be adopted by Tennessee, it is not to be believed that it would be eventually ratified by the requisite number of States. Therefore, it has been argued that Tennessee, without danger to her interests or violence to her principles, can suffer her Representatives to come here, take the oath and their pay and mileage. That is all they could take, for it would be too late for them to take any part in legislation at this session. But, if Tennessee accept the Radical issues, it will serve to produce the impression at the North that all the loyal men of the South are with the Radicals in their policy.

The Radical tariff is too strong even for Western Radicalism. It is strange, but still not unaccountable, that the Radicals have been seven months unconsciously working against themselves. They have found first one and then another mode of dividing and destroying their own party. Their tariff is the finishing, suicidal blow. They have in every instance put the dagger, thus reserved for themselves, into the hands of their leader, Thaddeus Stevens, and he has done their business for them very completely.

MEETING OF THE TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

NASHVILLE, July 6, 1866.—The Legislature met to-day. There was no quorum. Mr. Dunnaway, of Bedford county, sent in his resignation to the Governor.

AFFRAY IN TENNESSEE.

PULASKI, TENN., July 6, 1866.—Two negroes on the plantation of W. F. Ballantine, refusing to work, were ordered off by the superintendent. They armed themselves and engaged in a fight with the superintendent and his assistants. One negro was killed and another wounded. The latter was committed to trial.

TEXAS ELECTION.

NEW ORLEANS, July 5.—The western Texas returns repudiate negro suffrage strongly.

FROST IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

AUGUSTA, July 4.—There was frost in Pickens District, South Carolina, last night.

LANE STILL ALIVE.

LEAVENWORTH, July 6.—General Lane's condition continues favorable, and his friends are hopeful.

CONVENTION OF "SOUTHERN UNIONISTS."

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The call for a convention of loyal Union men of Southern States, to be held in this city during the Summer, is now being made out under the direction of Governor Hamilton, of Texas, and several other prominent Southern Union men. It will be ready by the early part of next week.

A SIBERIAN WOMAN.—A gentleman who is engaged in the telegraphic expedition in Siberia, relates the following incident in a letter to a friend in Cincinnati:

"I met with a Korak woman, of about twenty-two years of age, on the Tundra, (marked Kerau on the map,) who drove a team of reindeers with a loaded sledge fifty versts in one day, and at night slept out in the snow, with no covering except the clothes she had worn through the day, and in a temperature 43 degrees below zero, or 75 degrees below the freezing point! Think of that, ye effeminate ladies of America. That I saw myself, although even to me it seems incredible now. I thought it an extraordinary thing to sleep in a reindeer-skin tent out-doors in such weather, and I should have frozen to death in two hours had I attempted to sleep without it. She traveled with us, driving her own reindeer, and sleeping on the snow every night.

President Johnson and Secretary Seward have just been elected honorary members of the Sclavonic Brotherhood, a new organization, said to include two hundred thousand voters, and composed of Poles, Bohemians, Silesians, Moravians, Servians, etc., now citizens of the United States.

What a curious thing being a printer is! He stands when he sets, and sets when he stands, and when he wishes to set with ease he always stands erect. It is, however, the nature of the case which causes him to stand.

A skeptic thinks it very extraordinary that an ass once talked like a man. Isn't it more extraordinary that thousands of men are continually talking like asses?

The Scientific American has an article on "water, as a direct agent in the production of milk." No one will doubt it.

Cornelius calls disease an affection of the body contrary to nature: a pertubation of its habit; a derangement of its courses. What disease is, sometimes eludes human intelligence but some diseases are known—their origin, action and even their antidotes. Whoever has discovered an actual remedy for one disease, has done something for his race. Doct. Ayer has done more, for his medicines afford us the means to control and cure several dangerous disorders. We rarely speak on medical subjects, preferring to leave them to physicians who understand them better. But such effects as are seen in our midst, on affections of the lungs by Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on Scrofulous complaints by his Sarsaparilla, and on the several complaints that they cure by Ayer's Pills, should not be ignored.—[Keokuk, (Iowa) Journal.

Our Tuesday Morning Despatches.

From Porto Rico.

NEW YORK, July 9, P. M.

Advices from Porto Rico state that the slave population is rapidly diminishing and that the Sugar and Coffee crops are not more than half the usual average.

Indisposition of the President, &c.

WASHINGTON, July 9, P. M.

The President has been much indisposed today,—declining to receive all visitors. The hot weather is too exhausting even for his vigorous constitution.

A marine guard has been sent to Portland, by order of the Secretary of the Navy, to aid in protecting the city from thieves that have gathered there.

Congress.

WASHINGTON, July 9, P. M.

The Senate, to-day, passed the army bill reported by Wilson. The House passed Schenck's army bill, which will necessitate a conference committee.

The memorial of the N. Y. Chamber of Commerce, protesting against the passage of the Tariff bill, was presented to the House. Referred.

The Tariff bill was again considered and various sections adopted. Among those adopted was one to suspend so much of the direct tax imposed by the act of 1861 as is uncollected, until January, 1868. Mr. Morrill said that he considered this one of the best measures of reconstruction.

The bill was reported to the House by the Committee of the whole, when a motion was made to postpone the consideration of the bill until the next session; pending which, the House adjourned.

Great Fire in the Oil Regions.

LOUISVILLE, PENN., July 9.

During the storm last night, the lightning struck a gas pipe in a well, which communicated with the tank. The tank exploded and the oil ran down to Bernhoff run, where the flames reached 18 or 20 other large wells, which were burnt up. The tanks of all exploded,—causing the heaviest loss ever experienced in the oil regions.

Upwards of 20,000 bbls of oil were destroyed.

The Habeas Corpus—Convention of So-called Unionists, &c.

WASHINGTON, July 9, P. M.

Gen. Sickles will be instructed by the President to obey the writ of habeas corpus which he had refused to comply with in the case of Stevens and others, confined at Castle Pinkney for alleged murder.

Gov. Hamilton, and others, have issued an address to those styled Southern Loyalists, to meet here in September. The projectors of this scheme are in the interest of the Radicals.

The Republican Senators and Representatives will meet in caucus to-morrow night, to look after their party interests as well as legislative matters.

No Family at the South Should be Without Them.

The late Col John Wright, of Goldsboro', N. C, Aug. 14, 1862, says: "I have used the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS in my family here, and also on my plantation in Alabama, and always with success. I have a valuable servant girl who had been a long time under treatment for consumption without receiving any benefit. Almost in her extremity I was induced to try the Hepatic Pills. They were given according to directions, and she is now well, entirely restored by them. A similar case occurred among my servants in Alabama. For liver and lung diseases I have perfect confidence in them.

A NEW AND GRAND EPOCH IN MEDICINE!

DR. MAGGIEL is the founder of a new Medical System! The quantitarians, whose vast internal doses enfeeble the stomach and paralyze the bowels, must give precedence to the man who restores health and appetite, with from one to two of his extraordinary Pills, and cures the most virulent sores with a box or so of his wonderful and all healing Salve. These two great specifics of the Doctor are fast superseding all the stereotyped nostrums of the day. Extraordinary cures by Maggiel's Pills and Salve have opened the eyes of the public to the inefficiency of the [so called] remedies of others, and upon which people have so long blindly depended. Maggiel's Pills are not of the class that are swallowed by the dozen, and of which every box full taken creates an absolute necessity for another. One or two of Maggiel's Pills suffices to place the bowels in perfect order, tone the stomach, create an appetite, and render the spirits light and buoyant! There is no griping, and no reaction in the form of constipation. If the liver is affected, its functions are restored; and if the nervous system is feeble it is invigorated. This last quality makes the medicines very desirable for the wants of delicate females. Ulcerous and eruptive diseases are literally extinguished by the disenfectant power of Maggiel's Salve. In fact, it is here announced that Maggiel's Bilious, Dyspeptic and Diarrhea Pills cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts and all abrasions of the skin Maggiel's Salve is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton Street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cts. per box. Sold by all Druggists in Raleigh.

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, disease that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity the offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILLIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

FOR CUTANEOUS DISORDERS

And all eruptions of the skin the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil!

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

IS a concentrated extract of the choice root, to combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford an effectual antidote for disease. Sarsaparilla is reputed to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to the large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How complete's this compound will do, it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this Sarsaparilla, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood and are often soon cured by this Extract of Sarsaparilla.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used Ayer's—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agents below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS, for the cure of Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentary, Foul Stomach, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Heartburn arising from Disordered Stomach, Pain or Morbid Inaction of the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, and for a Dinner Pill.

They are sugar coated, so that the most sensitive can take them pleasantly, and they are the best Aperient in the world for all the purposes of a family physic.

Prepared by DR. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by Williams & Haywood, P. F. Pescud, Raleigh, N. C., and Dealers generally.
